THE HEALING CONSCIOUSNESS

A Doctor's Journey to Healing

By Beth Baughman DuPree, M.D.

ISBN # 0976667843. Paperback. 312 pp. May 2006. Wovenword Press. $22.00.

The Healing Consciousness: A Doctor's Journey to Healing tells the story of surgeon Beth Baughman DuPree's awakening to the healer within. Experiences of loss, including those of her brother and friends and medical acquaintances, taught her that Western medicine with its amazing techniques and medicines does not necessarily heal the patient. The Healing Consciousness reveals how this board-certified surgeon who specializes in diseases of the breast came to unite the technical skills of the West with the healing modalities of the East. Dr. Beth DuPree has found through her many years of professional practice and personal experience that blending holistic therapies with state-of-the-art, leading-edge, medical technologies leads to better outcomes than any sole reliance on one to the exclusion of the other. In The Healing Consciousness, she sets forth "life lessons learned" from both professional observation and personal experience, along with a summary of six basic principles.

"I recommend this book for healthcare professionals, physicians, and medical students to help find their way to healing themselves and their patients." - Bernie Siegel, M.D., author, Love, Medicine & Miracles.

"The Healing Consciousness: A Doctor's Journey to Healing, resonated deeply with me and reflected my own healing journey back to me. Dr. DuPree is that wondrous combination - a true healer with excellent Western training and surgical skills. Her book illuminates the path all must take to become happy and whole." - Christiane Northup, M.D., author, Mother-Daughter Wisdom, The Wisdom of Menopause and Women's Bodies, Women's Wisdom.

About the Author: A graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, Hahnemann Medical School with a medical/surgical residency at Albert Einstein Medical Center in Philadelphia, Beth Baughman DuPree is a surgeon specializing in diseases of the breast. She has practiced in Bucks County, PA for over a decade. She is a certified Reiki master and a proponent of yoga, psychological therapy and forgiveness as paths of healing. She is married to Joe, has two young sons, an old farm house, and a big garden.

IS IT AN OMEN?

By Stella Stickland

ISBN # 0954728084. Paperback. 332 pp. September 2003. M-Y Books. £8.99.

Since an early age Stella Stickland has lived with one foot in the spiritual world and the other in our earthly realm. In her autobiography Is It An Omen? she tells us on the one hand what it's like to see auras and glimpse ghosts and other worlds, and on the other how to be a practical, focussed woman able to start up from scratch an ultimately highly successful property development company.

The author skillfully mingles her own life's story with that of the tumultuous decades of the 60s, 70s, 80s and 90s in Britain and the world, drawing from these interwoven experiences penetrating conclusions about the present and future direction of humankind. In telling us of her traumas and triumphs and her many tests and trials—and revealing to us the existence of other, aiding, dimensions of reality—Stella Stickland gives the reader hands-on advice on how to rise above every circumstance. In discussing what's wrong with our society and the need to stop it from spiralling out of control, she tells us how to grow spiritually both now and for our next incarnation.

"In a world where the human spirit fighting for renewed hope is sometimes a dim light on the path, Ms. Stickland's book offers new hope for a brighter tomorrow. Happy reading!" - Rev. Dr. Sandra Gaskin, <<http://www.spirit-works.net>>

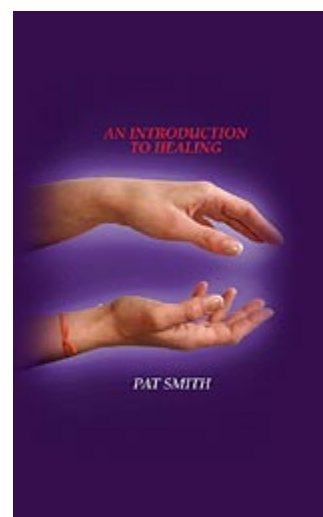

"Like most people's lives, Stella Stickland's has been one of a rollercoaster ride. But while most of us ride out the bumps and dips, Stella has been on the ride with the tallest peaks and the lowest falls and survived to tell the tale...Her story is an inspiration, especially for women, and one I found hard to put down." - Bexhill Observer.

About the Author: Born in Worthing, England, in 1946, Stella Stickland <<http://www.stellastickland.co.uk>> was educated at Worthing County Secondary Modern. In 1981 she launched a building and property development company, buying large Victorian properties, renovating and restoring them, and converting them into flats. A member of the Federation of Master Builders, she has owned furniture shops (both antique and modern) and a property letting and management company. A student and member of White Lodge, Speldhurst/The College of Psychotherapeutics (now the Centre of New Directions), she studied at Open University and received the Certificate in Health and Social Care.

AN INTRODUCTION TO HEALING

By Pat Smith

ISBN # 095560642X. Paperback. 156 pp. April 2007. M-Y Books. £9.99.

Spiritual healing is the channeling of healing energies through the healer to the patient. It re-energizes and relaxes the patient, enabling his or her own natural resources to deal with illness or injury in the best possible way. The goal of this natural, non-invasive, holistic approach is to restore the balance of body, mind and spirit of the patient and confer a sense of well-being and peace. Spiritual healing can be given for any illness, stress or injury. It has no side-effects and complements any other therapy.

Healer Pat Smith's approach is down-to-earth, straightforward and simple, dispensing with the mystical nonsense—candles, incense, angels, etc.—generally associated with the subject. The author writes: "We work with the energy around us; channelling and using that energy, we are able to boost the energy of others and so help them to heal themselves." An Introduction to Healing covers a comprehensive range of topics including: the history of spiritual healing; understanding energy; holistic healing; the spiritual nature of healing; meditation; the energy centres/chakras; grounding, attunement, cleansing and healing; distant (remote) healing; creative mind (how the mind can cause problems); visualisation; breath and breathing; the physical body; stress (how it affects people); body language; listening, and listening skills; healing into death and dying; healing and the law (healers need to know how the law will affect them in practice); your healing practice.

Pat Smith writes: "I teach healing because I believe the world is in need of healers. My belief is that anyone who wants to help others can become a healer. This course gives a clear understanding and insight into the subject, and if it inspires people then they will go on and train as healers."

About the Author: Pat Smith has been healing for many years and is a healer member of the National Federation of Spiritual Healers and Kent International Healing Association, both of which are members of the British Alliance of Healing Associations. She is also a tutor for KIHA and has taught healing courses at Richmond-Upon-Thames College. She has a private practice in her home on the borders of Hammersmith and Chiswick, London, and has worked on a voluntary basis as chairperson of a National Federation Healing Centre in Shepherds Bush.

Actuality

Life in the Real World

By C.W. Adams

Timeless Truth in Practical Terms

ISBN # 141962119X. Paperback. 440 pp. Sacred Earth. January 2006. $17.95.

Each of us persistently seeks fulfillment. This is because we experience an emptiness which cannot seem to be filled with the various physical things we try to consume. No matter how wealthy, famous or surrounded with people we might be, our emptiness within persists.

This constant emptiness indicates we have a deeper need beyond this physical existence. Many of us, after realizing material consumption doesn't fulfill us, will begin a search for the Truth. During this search we may be presented with various philosophical teachings or scientific theories which do not make sense to us.

Why shouldn't the Truth make practical sense to us? Why should we not be able to directly and easily apply a particular philosophy or theory regarding our existence to the everyday realities that surround us each moment? Why should the teachings we accept not answer the basic questions we have concerning the problems and dilemmas the world around us presents on a day-to-day basis?

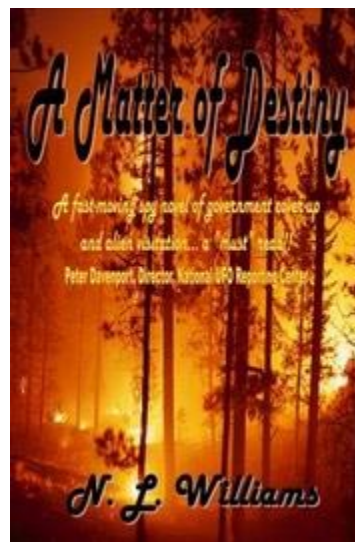

This collection of essays by C. W. Adams delivers realistic and logical answers with refreshing scientific grounding to our probing questions about life. We are all looking for truth. Real Truth. This collection of essays provides clear answers descended through a long line of masters over thousands of years. Logical explanations of our identity, origin and purpose for existence using common occurrences, everyday observations and scientific data will give the sincere reader practical answers to the urgent questions of: WHO AM I REALLY? WHAT IS MY REAL PURPOSE FOR EXISTING? WHO IS GOD? Actuality uncovers the essential elements for understanding our true nature and reason for existence. Once establishing these clear answers, Actuality goes deeper, offering the reader a clear pathway towards transcendental realization.

A Matter of Destiny

By Nancy Williams

ISBN # 1846854512. Paperback. 212 pp. Exposure Publishing. April 2007. $17.99.

What would you do if you found that the U.S. Department of Energy had created a weapon that could destroy the world—and you were the only one who could stop it? Destin Campbell, a P.R. man with Lockheed-Martin Corp. in Florida, faces that dilemma when he looks into the murder of his best friend. Why is the DOE trying to suppress the truth? Could there be an otherworldly connection? Destin finds he cannot fight the entire government alone, so he turns for help to a diverse group of strangers. They include a firefighter, a forensics specialist, a biologist, three teenagers, an anthropologist/linguist, a scientist in quantum energy research, and a hip truck driver. They're all drawn together as a team in North Carolina and committed to uncovering the DOE's deadly cover-up.

A fast-moving spy novel, A Matter of Destiny breaks new ground in its exploration of what an alien visit to planet Earth may mean for humankind's future in our galaxy. Williams addresses a question that should have been raised decades ago: Are we alone, and if not, what is the relationship between man and alien civilizations?

"A 'must' read for anyone with a modicum of concern for man's future, safety, and continued existence on Earth!" - Peter Davenport, Director, National UFO Reporting Center.

THE SOVEREIGN SOUL

Sufism: A Path for Today

By Phillip Gowins

ISBN 978-1-892138-10-1. Paperback. Preface. 224 pp. July 2006. New Paradigm Books. $16.95. Volume Two in THE NEWTON SERIES: Ancient Wisdom in the Modern World.

The aim of the 1,500-year-old spiritual tradition of Sufism, it has been said, is "the elimination of all veils between man and God." In June 2004, Sufi Master Pir Vilayat Inayat Khan died peacefully at his home in Paris, France. As leader of the Sufi Order International which first brought Sufism to the West in 1910, Pir Vilayat had spent more than 40 years teaching this and other truths of Sufism to audiences in the U.S., Europe and Asia.

For 25 years, Sufi teacher Phillip Gowins was able to take advantage of the many visits of Pir Vilayat to the New York area. Thus The Sovereign Soul: Sufism: A Path for Today is a homage to the Master, providing as it does an introduction to the ancient stream of wisdom embodied by Sufism, but present in other religions and humanistic philosophies as well, that Pir Vilayat was able to impart to students around the world.

The Sovereign Soul is also a description, always concrete, often humorous, of the mystical path that Phillip Gowins himself has pursued over the years. With many examples and exercises, he shows us how we can practice the spiritual life ourselves. The path he lays out is strewn with pitfalls and pleasures alike. He tells us how we can avoid the one and enjoy the other, and attain to love and self-mastery in the increasingly complex 21st century.

"The Sovereign Soul...provides a great introduction to the Sufi way of thinking and, while it certainly emphasizes the importance of having a personal teacher, its openness to all wisdom paths allows the practices described to be adapted by all on the path to wholeness." - Living Traditions Magazine.

"Blending elements of personal memoir, history, and philosophy into its presentation, The Sovereign Soul discusses how to get oneself on the path, exercise spiritual creativity, embrace love and sacrifice, prepare oneself for death, and much more. An inspirational tour-de-force of the wisdom inherent within Sufi teachings." - Midwest Book Review.

About the Author: Phillip Gowins was born in Minneapolis, MN, in 1945. He has been a cabinetmaker since 1980. In 1979 he met Pir Vilayat Inayat Khan and shortly thereafter was inducted into the Sufi Order in the West. A teacher in that order, he runs a Sufi Center at his home in Yonkers, N.Y. with his wife, Majida, who is also a teacher. Her daughter, and their grandchildren, live with them.

The Happiness Trap Stop Struggling, Start Living

By Dr. Russ Harris

ISBN: 978 0 908988 90 7. Paperback with flaps. 234 x 153 mm. 280 pp. $ Australian 29.95. March 2007. Exisle Publishing.

What if almost everything we believed about finding happiness turned out to be inaccurate, misleading, or false? And what if those very beliefs were making us miserable? What if our efforts to find happiness were actually preventing it?

A growing body of scientific research suggests that we are all caught in a powerful psychological trap: a vicious cycle, whereby the more we strive for happiness, the more we suffer. This book provides an escape from 'the happiness trap,' via a revolutionary new development in human psychology: a powerful model for change, known as Acceptance and Commitment Therapy (ACT).

ACT helps people to create a rich, full and meaningful life, whilst effectively handling the pain that inevitably comes with it. It achieves this through the use of six powerful principles, which are very different to the 'common-sense' strategies suggested in most self-help books. ACT has been clinically proven to be highly effective in a wide range of psychological disorders, ranging from depression and anxiety to drug addiction and schizophrenia. It is no exaggeration to say that ACT is changing the very face of western psychology—and it was recently written up as a major feature article in Time magazine. Interestingly, although ACT is based on cutting-edge psychological research into human cognition, it has many parallels with ancient eastern philosophy.

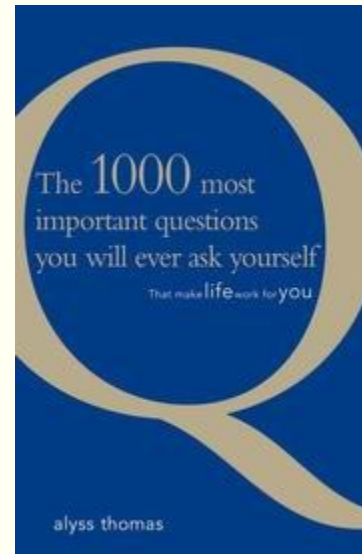

This book shows you how to apply ACT in your own life to increase self-awareness, develop emotional intelligence, enhance relationships, create a sense of meaning and purpose, access a transcendent sense of self, and fundamentally transform painful thoughts and feelings so they have much less impact and influence over your life.

About the Author: Dr Russ Harris was born in Liverpool, England. After graduating in medicine from the University of Newcastle-Upon-Tyne, he emigrated to Australia. As a family doctor, he became increasingly interested in the psychological aspects of medical illness. In his eclectic career, he has been a stand-up comedian, sex therapist, filmmaker, novelist, and workshop presenter. He now practices as a psychological health physician in Melbourne.

VICTOR HUGO'S CONVERSATIONS WITH THE SPIRIT WORLD

WHAT THE CRITICS SAID ABOUT CONVERSATIONS WITH ETERNITY:

"Challenging, memorable, poetic utterances abound." - FOREWORD.

"Quite a surprise, quite a delight." - THE ANOMALIST (Best Books of 1998).

"Presented here is a whole 'nother side to the incredible mind that wrote Les Misérables...the book makes you feel like an ambitious yet misguided archeologist who accidentally unearths the ancient text that provides a spiritual Missing Link. Read it, love it, share it, talk about it; most of all, have fun with it. This is a total adventure, and I would give my eyeteeth to have been there!" - T.E., NAPRA REVIEW.

"Strangely alive, pregnant with a timely spiritual urgency." - FATE.

Victor Hugo's Conversations with the Spirit World covers a hitherto undocumented (except in part by Conversations with Eternity) portion of Victor Hugo's life: August 1853 to December 1855, when, while in political exile on Jersey Island in the English Channel, he participated in numerous "tapping-table" séances. Only with the publication in 2002 of the fourth and final volume of daughter Adèle Hugo's diary have all the details of this tumultuous period come to light. Not until 1923 were some of the transcripts of the seances published in France; only in 1970 did they appear in large number. Victor Hugo's Conversations with the Spirit World is the first translation ever into English of the transcripts of these always beautiful, often harrowing, seances; it is also the first introduction to the English-speaking world of lengthy portions of Adèle Hugo's beguiling, richly-detailed diary.

Scholars differ as to the state of Hugo's mind during this period on Jersey Island. Some think he was suffering from a form of schizophrenia; others that he was in a state of grace, about to ascend to a higher level of awareness. In general, the French intelligentsia is embarrassed by this flirtation with the spirit world of their greatest literary genius. Be that as it may, the transcripts, translated at length in this book, attest that well over 100 spirits manifested through the tapping tables to Victor Hugo, his family, and fellow political exiles. They included shades of the illustrious dead such as Shakespeare, Plato and Galileo, and spirits who said they'd never been alive, like the Shadow of the Sepulcher and Death. Aliens from Mercury and Jupiter spoke through the tables, with the Mercurians channeling drawings of themselves. Jesus, during three visits, condemned Druidism, faulted Christianity, and suggested a new religion with Hugo as its prophet. The spirit of Mozart, using a real piano, tried to channel a symphony. Led by Balaam's Ass, the entities set forth a strange and forbidding picture of our cosmos as a kind of giant prison shaken by the winds of a metempsychosis entailing the passage of every soul through plants, animals and stones as well as humanoids. They tried to tell Hugo and his friends how to cope with this fearsome, unforgetting cosmos.

This is only one part of the story. The Hugo family, around and about the seances, comes to life in the pages of this book. They live in a microcosm of seething political and personal turmoil. In Victor Hugo's Conversations with the Spirit World lengthy, lively vignettes focus on each of them in turn, with all their strengths, foibles and shining individualities. Hugo's three children, in their twenties, vital, talented, indomitable, have reluctantly followed their father into exile. They chaff at being cut off from their birthright of participation in the vibrant, ongoing life of France. There is Charles, the oldest, the reluctant medium, furious and rebellious under his apparent compliance; Adèle, the diarist, on the verge of schizophrenia, falling in love with the dangerous Lieutenant Pinson; François-Victor, troubled and scholarly but best able to take advantage of this exile, who settles into translating the plays of Shakespeare. The book follows their difficult days and nights while also focusing on the lives of the other political exiles, including the Hungarians and especially their leader Count Sandor Teleki, who, valiant but war-weary, finds unexpected solace in the tapping tables. There is a midnight vignette of the French Emperor Napoléon III, Hugo's greatest enemy, wandering through the corridors of his palace. All this, and much more, is interwoven everywhere with the contents of the seances as well as being gathered into seven entirely new chapters:

"Channeling the Enemy" (Napoléon III)

"The United States of Europe: Was Victor Hugo a Grand Master of the Priory of Sion?"

"Victor Hugo and the Kabbala"

"When the Tapping Tables Spoke Hungarian: On Jersey with Veterans of Kossuth's War of Independence"

"Other Voices, Other Rooms: The Romance and Tragedy of Adèle Hugo"

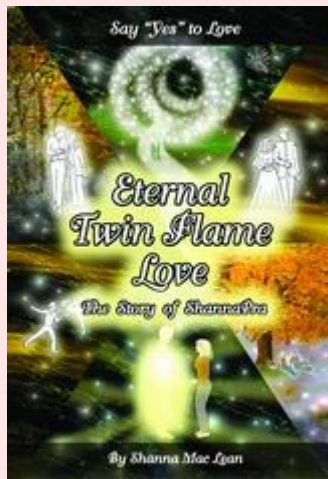

"Victor Hugo, William Blake and James Merrill: Three Visionaries, One Vision"

"Act One of a New Play Channeled from William Shakespeare"

About the Author: John Chambers is the director of New Paradigm Books. He publishes widely in articles ranging from sports to mall sprawl to alien abduction and has seven essays appearing in Inner Traditions's Forbidden Religion. He lives in Boca Raton, Florida.

In this classic in the field of animal communication, Yael Powell, a universal communicator and author of the Say "YES" to Love Series of Messages from God, shares her conversations with her special animal companion, Magic Cat, who is an enlightened animal and a Master in the spiritual realms.

Magic first came to Yael as a six-month-old stray. He was yowling and refused to go away. Yael and husband Doug tried to ignore him, but he won them over and he and Yael soon "fell in Love." Magic Cat has always been very strong-minded. One evening in 2001, he pressed his furry forehead against Yael's third eye, and a marvelous Message came forth from this special cat about the Web of Life. This inaugurated the messages contained in this book. Topics include Sacred Sexuality through the eyes of a cat, our "loopy" minds, death, the difference between cats hunting and humans eating meat and much more.

If you love animals, if you've ever wondered about their spirit, if you've ever wanted to commune with one, you will love the candor and beauty of Say "Yes" to Love: Magic Cat (an enlightened animal) Explains Creation.

"Oh, my dear friends... I just finished Magic Cat Explains Creation last night and I can only say, Wow! I wept for the first 100 pages. Yael and Doug Powell of the Say YES to Love books have once again been pure conduits for a most profound message of Love! Magic Cat's messages through Yael are deeply insightful and touch the very altar of the human heart!

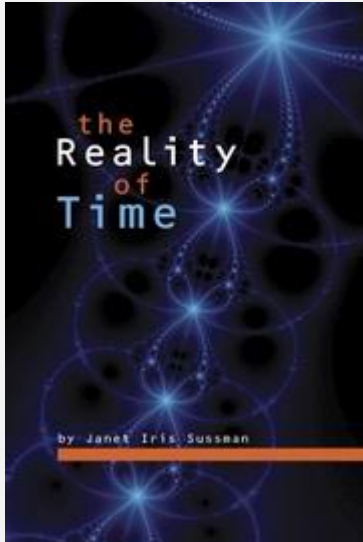

"I have yet to meet a soul upon this planet whose life has remained untouched by the divine love of an animal. Almost every spiritual tradition has promised that one day the animals would communicate with us. At long last, the time has come. Magic Cat's wisdom and spiritual vision will have you weeping too in recognition of the truths he's shared. Thank you, thank you, dear Magic Cat (although I'm sure he has received my gratitude already through the ethers)." - Angelina Heart, author of The Teaching of Little Crow, Virgin, Utah

ABOUT THE AUTHORS: Yael Powell is a mystic and universal communicator who has experienced a daily communion with God during 35 years of meditation. Housebound because of a disability of the spine, Yael's path has led her to be "the pen in God's hand." Circle of Light Press has published five books of God Messages, with more to come. Her animals are her companions in Love, as witnessed by this beautiful volume of animal communication.

The Reality of Time

By Janet Iris Sussman

ISBN 0-9643535-0-2. Paperback. 376 pp. January 2005. Time Portal Publications. $17.95.

This finely crafted work draws the reader into an experiential, wholly original perspective on the nature of time and human awareness. Physics readers will marvel at how quantum mechanics can be elucidated from the inside out. Readers interested in the study of consciousness will begin to understand the importance of time to the unfoldment of unity consciousness and self-realization. Most people think of time simply as a passive, mechanical tool for measuring reality. The new idea introduced here is that time is a dynamic field responsible for creating the material universe. The Reality of Time seeks to explain that inner reality.

"Once in a long while a book comes along that has the capacity to turn the page on what we thought of as 'reality.' One enters into a dimension that transcends the usual language, the cadences of ordinary thought. But the effort yields extraordinary treasures. One is introduced to a reality larger than one's aspiration, more potent than all one's dreams." - Jean Houston

"Janet Sussman has written two deeply intuitive, highly metaphorical, and overwhelmingly intellectual descriptions of what I believe is the nature of time. She relates time to a sacred dimension of existence that few of us have access to. She has made the brave attempt to describe the indescribable as St. Augustine once realized. However, readers should be prepared to use their thinking caps when reading this." - Fred Alan Wolf, Ph.D., National Book Award-winning author of Taking the Quantum Leap and many other books

*"Janet Sussman possesses an uncanny grasp of a broad range of important concepts of science and metaphysics, as well as an unsurpassed command of the tools of the English language. The rich tapestry of structure and content that she has crafted in The Reality of Time reflects her vast experience in meditative practices, introspection, self-observation, and analysis."* - Ashish Chatterjee, Ph.D., nuclear theoretical physicist

About the Author: Janet Iris Sussman is a writer, musician and intuitive counselor. She has originated higher mental and super-conscious processes that enable students to more clearly perceive the inner mechanics of the human energy system. The yoga of traveling in time has developed through meditative experience and lucid dreaming sequences. Her first book, Timeshift: The Experience of Dimensional Change, is a voyage into the fabric of time that illuminates our consciousness.

COURAGEOUS SOULS:

Do We Plan Our Life Challenges Before Birth?

By Robert Schwartz

ISBN: 9780977679454. Paperback. 327 pp. 2007. Whispering Winds Press. $16.95.

Finalist, USABookNews.com Best Books Awards, New Age Nonfiction; Finalist, ForeWord Magazine Book of the Year Awards, Mind/Body/Spirit Category.

Courageous Souls: Do We Plan Our Life Challenges Before Birth? explores the premise that we are all eternal souls who plan our lives, including our greatest challenges, before we're born for purposes of spiritual growth. The book contains ten true stories of people who planned physical illness, having handicapped children, deafness, blindness, drug addiction, alcoholism, losing a loved one, and severe accidents. The information about their pre-birth plans was obtained by four gifted mediums and channels, including one who has the ability both to see and to hear the dialogue we have with one another before we're born. The book presents the actual conversations people had with their future parents, children, spouses, friends, and other loved ones when they planned their lives together. For readers, suffering that once seemed purposeless becomes imbued with deep meaning. Wisdom may be acquired in a more conscious manner; negative feelings are healed and replaced by acceptance, forgiveness, gratitude, and peace. A large excerpt from the book may be downloaded for free at http://www.courageoussouls.com/about_book.htm.

"Robert Schwartz has done an excellent job of presenting the possible explanations of what we are doing here and why we are here. I highly recommend this book." - Dannion Brinkley, author, Saved by the Light.

*"The serene cover of Courageous Souls belies the punch with which Robert Schwartz communicates the results of his research into pre-birth planning . . . Overall, it is one of the best books of this kind I have come across."* - Anna Jedrzejewski, New Age Retailer.

"...a life-affirming exercise that shows we direct our soul learning and aren't hapless victims of the vagaries of fate." - Ruth Parnell, NEXUS.

About the Author: In a personal session with a medium in 2003, Robert Schwartz was astonished to speak with nonphysical beings who knew everything about him—not just what he had done in life, but also what he had thought and felt. They told him that he had planned many of his most difficult experiences before he was born. Realizing that a knowledge of pre-birth planning would bring great healing to people and allow them to understand the deeper purpose of their life challenges, he devoted the next three years to studying the pre-birth plans of dozens of individuals. The extraordinary insights that emerged speak to our heartfelt, universal yearning to know . . . why. A former freelance journalist for such publications as Life magazine and U.S. News & World Report, Mr. Schwartz has a B.A. from Dartmouth College and an M.B.A. from Case Western Reserve University.

AS FOR TOMORROW, I CANNOT SAY

33 Years with Multiple Sclerosis

By Diana Neutze

A joint publication of New Paradigm Books and Hazard Press, New Zealand <<http://www.hazard.co.nz>>. ISBN 1877270172 (N.Z.). ISBN 1892138069 (U.S.). Paperback. 104 pp. February 2002 (U.S.). $13.95.

In the mid-1990s, portrait painter / psychic researcher Virginia Adair traveled around the world interviewing 43 female psychics and healers chosen randomly from fifteen countries on four continents. Among the new daughters of the oracle she encountered were:

- Elvia Chaquinga Zurita, of Mexico City, who heals people's mental and physical ailments by telekinetically transferring their negative vibes into the whites of eggs;
- Greta Woodrew, of Waynesville, N.C., who cured ballerina Virginia Rich Barnett in minutes of a knee injury so severe doctors told her she'd never dance or even exercise again. The associate director of Atlanta's Carl Radcliffe Dance Group was still dancing at age 55;
- Daphne Possee, of Kent, England, who foresaw the Zeebrugge, Belgium, ferry disaster and the Pan-Am Lockerbie air disaster, and foretold the dates of the 1991 Desert War against Saddam Hussein;
- Sema Oztemir, of Istanbul, Turkey, who foretold the emergency heart surgery of her country's Prime Minister;
- Joy Herald, of Newark, N.J., who used her psychometric powers—the ability to sense events surrounding all those who have ever touched an object—to solve an insoluble murder case; and 37 more.

"[It]...is an adventure into the most fascinating and challenging areas of human perception [, suggesting] what lies ahead for all of us..." - Professor Hans Holzer, Ph.D., parapsychologist, author of 126 books including Ghosts and Life Beyond Life.

"What do a healer from Indonesia, a psychic from New Orleans, an oracle from Argentina, and a mystic from India have in common?....To me, this book stated clearly that all life is connected by an invisible web, and that humility, compassion, and an unselfish desire to assist others can bring forth near-miraculous abilities in anyone. Tomorrow will be a time when we will all use telepathy and become psychically advanced humans; those who work to develop these areas in themselves today are the vanguard. Let's go!" - Magical Blend, November, 2002.

About the Author: Virginia Adair was born and raised in Atlanta, Georgia, and attended college in Virginia. For many years she pursued a career as a portrait painter. Her works hang in institutions and private collections in both America and Europe. She is also the author of Eighteenth Century Pastel Portraits (John Gifford Ltd., 1971). Virginia Adair passed away at her home in Atlanta on September 29, 2002 at the age of 82.

New Zealand poet Diana Neutze was in her late 20s, living in London with her husband and young son, when she discovered that she had multiple sclerosis. More than three decades later, wheelchair-bound and largely confined to her Christchurch home, she has told her remarkable story. Fiercely independent and passionately determined, she has fought the illness with every psychological and physical weapon in her armory. As For Tomorrow, I Cannot Say is a tribute to the power of the human spirit.

"I am recommending it to young doctors because it contains insights into managing multiple sclerosis that they will not find in their textbooks." - Jon Simcock, M.D., Neurological Foundation of New Zealand, Auckland.

A MANIFESTO OF SPUNK. "Neutze is a New Zealand poet and historian, who contracted MS in her 20s but who managed to teach at university, publish several books and travel overseas, in spite of continually having to adjust to physical degeneration. Given the unforgiving nature of her disease, Neutze's achievements show admirable strength of character, but read her book and you'll quickly realize that, even better, her outlook is suffused with humour (often directed at her predicament) and an abiding interest in other people. This humility lifts Neutze's book from being a mere chronicle of an illness into a manifesto of spunk. As a chronicle, it is successful enough. Indeed, it illuminates the inner and outer lives of the multiple sclerosis victim with sensitivity and perception. Reading it, I felt privileged to be admitted to her private world, and grateful for her insights into life with a severe disability. It is attractively written, witty, interesting, and sprinkled with poetry—which makes a successful book by anyone's standards. But the best thing about this little book is that 'victim' isn't part of Neutze's vocabulary. By the time you've finished it, you won't be surprised to learn that the manuscript was typed with only one finger in a single month!" - Wanganui Newspapers, April 23, 2002.

"This book is a revelation and an inspiration. Also, it's often very funny....[It] deserves to remain in print forever, as a classic resource. It's a revelation, because Diana Neutze describes her life so frankly." - Quality Web Content <<http://www.webpagecontent.com>>, August 2001.

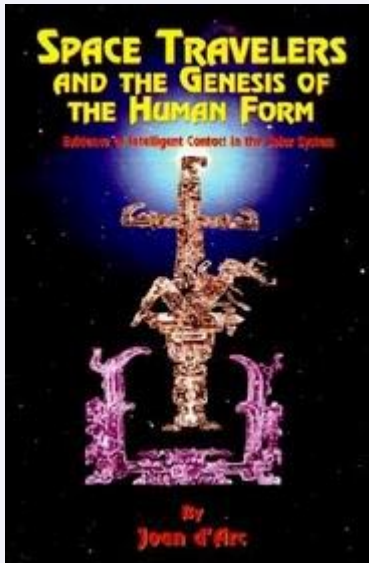

"A story of courage, determination and extraordinary creativity. It is also a literary story, written in clear lucid prose with poetical insights and humor." - Helen J. O'Neill, TAKAHE Literary Magazine.

Space Travelers and the Genesis of the Human Form

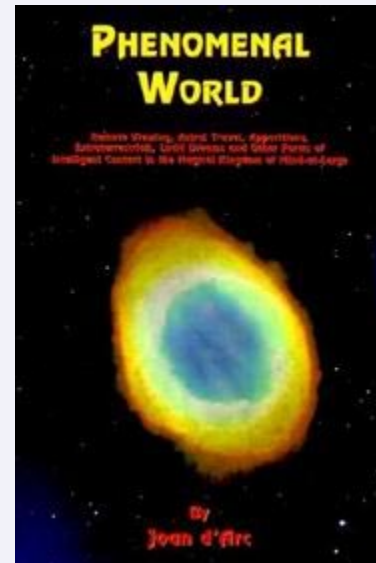

Evidence for Intelligent Contact in the Solar System

By Joan d'Arc

Phenomenal World

Remote Viewing, Astral Travel, Apparitions, Extraterrestrials, Lucid Dreams and Other forms of Intelligent Contact in the Magical Kingdom of Mind-At-Large By Joan d'Arc

Can Darwinian evolution actually prove that we are alone in the Universe? This book illustrates that Darwinian evolution is not an empirically predictable or testable scientific paradigm. It also shows that ancient artifacts on Mars and the Moon are evidence of Game Wardens in our own solar system.

"Joan is part of a new generation of researchers who are trying to sort wheat from chaff by distilling the truth about the history of aliens on earth from the legacy of aging UFOlogists....Reading Joan D'Arc's book will put that big grin on your face, because you'll be part of a growing club of people who are finally starting to accept we were never alone. She puts the pieces of our genetic puzzle back together again after centuries of mystery schools hid it from the church to protect the secrets of this knowledge. Her book will let your guards down and remove the blinders. Buy it, read it, and get the ammunition you need to give your college professors a hard time!" - Remy Chevalier, AMAZON.COM.

"This book is thought-provoking and extremely well-researched. It blows apart the theory of evolution with facts evolutionists don't mention. The author's unique style and courage to address these issues—spiced with wit—in the face of rather startling information is refreshing. The book introduces readers to a maze of information, some of which might be factual, some of which might have been disinformation. All in all, this book is well-written and is a rollicking ride for those who dare to read it." - Customer, AMAZON.COM.

About the Author: Joan d'Arc is the co-publisher/co-editor of the magazine Paranoia: The Conspiracy Reader, and the past publisher of Newspeak Guide to the Alternative Press. She is also the editor of the books Paranoid Women Collect Their Thoughts and The Conspiracy Reader.

For centuries mankind has been exploring the nature of reality. The materialistic scientific worldview would have us believe that physically measurable phenomena are all that exist. Yet the answers to the key of reality go far beyond this mindset. This book explores the clues we have about the nature of reality, especially those aspects that cannot yet be proven. If we can understand the most baffling aspects of reality, then we will move closer toward understanding its ultimate cause and nature.

"What makes Phenomenal World unique is the connecting of ivory tower philosophy (Husserl, Sartre, Heidegger and Merleau-Ponty in particular), fringe conspiracy theories, and cutting-edge science (especially quantum physics). D'Arc raises an extremely important issue: the way perception influences reality. While this in itself is not new—many new age and occult books have this theme—Phenomenal World makes us look at many "paranormal" events from this perspective, putting everything in a new light." - Llew Christopher <www.liminalworlds.com>.

"Joan d'Arc has been looking into the dark corners of ufology, conspiracies, mysticism, psychic phenomena and things that go "bump-in-the-night" for two decades. This remarkable book seems to be a comparative overview of virtually everything that has a bearing on how reality is perceived. It covers every occult, Gnostic, psychic, drug-induced, and physics-related view of reality available. All of these areas, according to Joan, have a common denominator: They are forms of mind control." - Dr. Greg Little, AMAZON.COM.

FATHER ERNETTI'S CHRONOVISOR

The Creation and Disappearance of the World's First Time Machine

By Peter Krassa

ISBN # 1892138026. Paperback. 224 pp. 2000. New Paradigm Books. $16.95.

Father Pellegrino Maria Ernetti (1925-1994) was a Benedictine priest, scientist, and world-class authority on "archaic" music (pre-Christian to 10th century A.D.). He claimed to have yoked quantum physics to the occult arts to construct a time-machine—the chronovisor. Father Ernetti said he had traveled to Rome in 169 B.C. to watch a performance of a lost tragedy, Thyestes, by the father of Latin poetry, Quintus Ennius. He claimed to have used the chronovisor to watch Christ dying on the cross. Why would so distinguished a churchman have felt the need to fabricate such a story? Is the Vatican suppressing the truth about Father Ernetti's life and achievements? The reader may well find the answer in this book.

"Everything about the life of Father Pellegrino Ernetti suggests that this Italian Benedictine priest-scientist was a man of integrity and would not have created a hoax..." NEXUS, Aug.-Sept. 2000.

"Peter Krassa's book is a well-researched account of Ernetti's life and work that has garnered huge critical acclaim." - X-Factor.

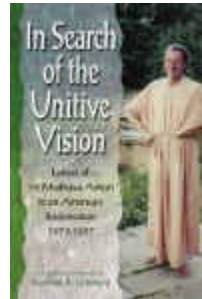

"It is a first-rate, challenging mystery-thriller, not fiction but—whatever the true explanation behind it all is—the 'real thing!'" - Berthold E. Schwarz, M.D. (Psych.), author, UFO Dynamics.

"A beautifully written literary-cum-fictional experiment, in the Umberto Eco tradition....This style, while not 'stream-of-consciousness' or collage, nevertheless juxtaposes many elements: an esoteric story, essays on occultism, historical elements and technological myths....We are treated to a fascinating investigation threading through Edison, Edgar Cayce, Mesmer, and even Whitley Strieber!" - Colin Bennett, Fortean Times.

About the Author. Peter Krassa is a well-known journalist in Vienna, Austria, who has authored over 25 books, including works on Erich von Danigen, ancient astronauts, the Count of Saint-Germain, and many others.

In Search of the Unitive Vision

Letters of Sri Madhava Ashish to an American Businessman, 1978-1997

Compiled with a Commentary by
Seymour B. Ginsburg

ISBN 1-892138-05-0. Paperback. 304 pp. Illustrated. 2001. New Paradigm Books. $19.95.

"If you want to pursue in a Western way the path that we follow here at Mirtola, you need to study and work with the Gurdjieffian teaching."

Thus did the guru Madhava Ashish, at their first meeting, invite American businessman Sy Ginsburg on a spiritual journey that would last 19 years (until the guru's death) and include both annual visits to Sri Madhava Ashish's Mirtola ashram, near Almora, in India's Himalayan foothills, and a lengthy correspondence. Along the way, the entrepreneur/author would be caught up not only in the teachings of G.I. Gurdjieff, but also in the search for the elusive unitive vision—the world viewed from the perspective of the greater self and not the personality.

In this remarkable spiritual document, the reader shares the search, increasingly catching glimpses of the unitive vision as the book draws toward a close that is also an opening out, into the vaster dimensions of the human mind.

In Search of the Unitive Vision contains a number of unique features:

1 It is a primer of esoteric literature. The decisive influences on Sri Madhava Ashish were Vaishnava, Theosophy, and G. I. Gurdjieff. In five essays reprinted in full in this book, the Scots-born, adoptive-Indian monk eloquently conveys the essence of Vaishnava. Moreover, in detailed narrative threads running through the book, Seymour Ginsburg provides basic information on G.I. Gurdjieff's Fourth Way and H.P. Blavatsky's Theosophy. All of this material, taken altogether, constitutes a rarely-seen, comprehensive, basic introduction to esoteric literature.

2 It is a uniquely brief but comprehensive Introduction to Gurdjieff. Mr. Ginsburg's account is developed in such a way that readers knowing nothing about Gurdjieff at the beginning of In Search of the Unitive Vision will know how to read with understanding Beelzebub's Tales to His Grandson by the time they've finished.

3 It casts new Light on Theosophy in India in the early 20th century in its accounts of the lives of theosophy leader Dr. G. N. Chakravarti and his wife Monica (prior to her becoming Sri Yashoda Mai) and the founding of Ashish's Mirtola ashram by Yashoda Mai and the Sri Krishna Prem.

"[Madhava Ashish was the] last English saint....came to India to repair spitfires, stayed to tame the inner fire." - This Week of India

"Ginsburg is able to create an atmosphere of the palpable presence of the master by providing quotations from his letters and articles." - Jagdish C. Nautiyal, Ph.D., Professor Emeritus, University of Toronto.

"[Ashish's] responses, always full of insight and sometimes wry humor, throw an impartial light on theosophy, the Gurdjieff Work and Indian spirituality." - Ravi Ravindra, Chair, Comp. Rel. Dept., Dalhousie University.

About the Author: Chicago-born Seymour Ginsburg was a successful American entrepreneur, the co-founder of Toys-'R-Us, before he met Sri Madhava Ashish. Also the author of several books uniquely on Gurdjieff, he lives in Delray Beach for one part of the year and Chicago for the other.
